..... PRESIDENT'S LETTER

This past weekend (11 September 2004) we held our annual Swap Meet. As usual those in attendance did their fair share of trading, buying and selling. We had delicious and more than ample refreshments for sale for all present to have a great lunch and great desserts. Many thanks to Dot and Mill Hajek for setting up the kitchen and to Dot and Marge Burford for the great eats. All who were there had a great time I believe. Beside business, we "Talked Story" and solved some of the world's and the hobby's problems. With all this as a backdrop, it was a real shame that we only had twelve members in attendance. I am not sure why; however, it is a bit frustrating. If September is a bad month maybe we can try another timeframe. If you have any thoughts, please make them known.

As we mentioned at the last Maryland Token and Medal Society business meeting, the Maryland State Numismatic Association (MSNA) will hold its 2005 annual coin show and convention at the Ocean City, Maryland Convention Center on 8 & 9 October 2005. MD TAMS will have a meeting at that show on Saturday 8 October. Specific details as to room and time will be provided in later journals. This is a long holiday weekend (Columbus Day) which should make attending the show and meeting a bit easier. This is another great chance for our Eastern Shore members to attend.

Please do not forget that BANC has a show coming up on Sunday 10 October 2004. Please try to attend and support your organization. Also, I am pleased to announce the three BANC Coin Show dates for next year:

Sunday 6 February 2005

Sunday 5 June 2005

Sunday 2 October 2005

As part of the recent American Numismatic Association Convention held in Pittsburgh in August, the ANA Board held its meeting. Word from Pittsburgh has it that the ANA has decided to have its 2008 annual convention in Baltimore. We are anxiously awaiting formal word from ANA through MSNA that this is now official. It will be fantastic to get the ANA back in Baltimore. Baltimore makes a great host city and hopefully we will get another chance to show the world our hospitality again in 2008. Stay tuned.

Also honored were members who captured the A Vernon Taylor Literary Award for the best articles that appeared in The MD TAMS Journal volume XXIV No. 1 WHOLE No. 95 SPRING 2003 through Volume XXIV No. 98 WINTER 2003.

The first place article was voted best by all three judges. However the three "Runner-Up" position each received a separate vote. A re-vote was taken and Wallace Stone was declared runner-up winner. President Edward Craig honored 4 members who have supported him during his presidency and made significant contributions to MD TAMS with a gold-plated pewter medal. The medals commemorate the 25th anniversary of the founding of MD TAMS. Members were Millard Hajek-Vice President, Robert Ruby-Treasurer, James Boswell-Secretary, and Willard R. In Memory of William D. Sacks, Sr.

Millard W. Hajek

William (Bill) Sacks passed away on September 27, 2004 after a long and hard fought battle with Lou Gehrig's disease (ALS). Bill was the MD TAMS Vice-president from 1993-1995 when he was forced to resign because of his illness. He was an active transportation collector and was always helpful to other collectors in attributing transportation tokens. He often donated many tokens to the American Vecturist Association (AVA) in his efforts to advance the hobby of token collecting. Bill was quite active in the Maryland State Numismatic Association and Baltimore Coin Club and was instrumental in arranging for their current meeting place at Grace United Methodist Church where he was actively engaged with the Boy Scouts of America. I personally shared many conversations with Bill at Baltimore Coin Club's Annual Dinner Meetings while enjoying a cold beer. My opening remarks to Bill always started off with "How in the H--l are you? The numismatic community has lost a true friend and will certainly miss Bill.

RAY'S FISH MARKET & PETE'S TAVERN

BY W. Wallace Stone. R- 47

Two plastic tokens that have been in my miscellaneous box for a while have finally been attributed as to their locations. The first is the octagonal issue of Ray's Fish Market with an address of 1953 W. North Avenue. There is no city or town indicated on the obverse or reverse. The value on the reverse is 5 cents and the other in my possession has the valuation of 25 cents. Both tokens are identical in size of 24 mm. Through the pages of the most recent Baltimore City directory, that being the 1964 edition I was able to determine that the address on this token was indeed a valid address. At that time the store was occupied by a dry cleaning and laundry company. Further research through the Baltimore City cross - street directory led to the year of 1976 and the listing of "Ray's Fish Market". This was the only year listed under that name. In 1977 through 1980 the name at this address was shown as "North Avenue Sea Food" Perhaps this was the same ownership or more likely the company was sold and continued in business under the new name.

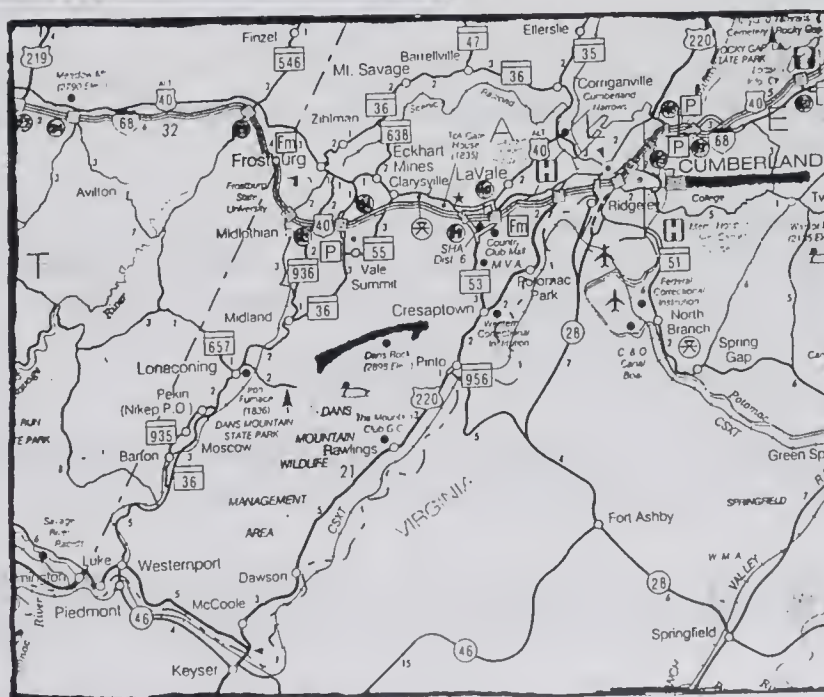

So, here is another maverick that can now be attributed as a Baltimore token

The second token is that of "Pete's Parkview Tavern", this is a round, plain edge plastic token measuring 28mm with the company's phone number centered under the name. The second issue by "Pete's Tavern" however does not have the name of the tavern on either obverse or reverse. It does list their phone number and the statement of "1 free drink" along with the location of the company as being in the town of Cresaptown, Md.

A telephone call placed to the number on the token verified that this was "Pete's Parkview Tavern" in Cresaptown, Md. When asked why the two tokens carried separate phone numbers on their obverse, they replied, "well, we have one phone on this side of the tavern and one in the back".

Quoting from the Hamill Kenny book "The Placenames of Maryland, their origins and Meaning." Cresaptown is as follows. "Near Cumberland, Allegany County. Postal history indicates that it was Cresapburg from 1800 until 1823. And it is probably the place that was once known as Cresap Station, near Rawlings. Here Daniel Cresap, father of Edward Cresap, of Cumberland, built a brick house. This name commemorates the family of the celebrated Colonel Thomas Cresap, whose fort and home were at Skipton (now Oldtown), near Cumberland."

The son of Isaac Tyson Jr. (1792-1861), a Quaker, Jesse Tyson was born in 1826. Isaac taught his sons, James and Jesse about copper and chrome. Both sons attended Haverford College (near Philadelphia) in the 1840's.

James moved to Vermont to run a mining operation in which Jesse had some ownership. Jesse stayed in Baltimore and was president of the Baltimore Chrome Works with mining operations primarily in the Barre Hills area of Baltimore County.

In selected Baltimore directories, listings included:

1847-8 Although Jesse was not listed with a business, Isaac was listed as proprietor of Baltimore Chrome Works, Corner of Muller and Block Streets.

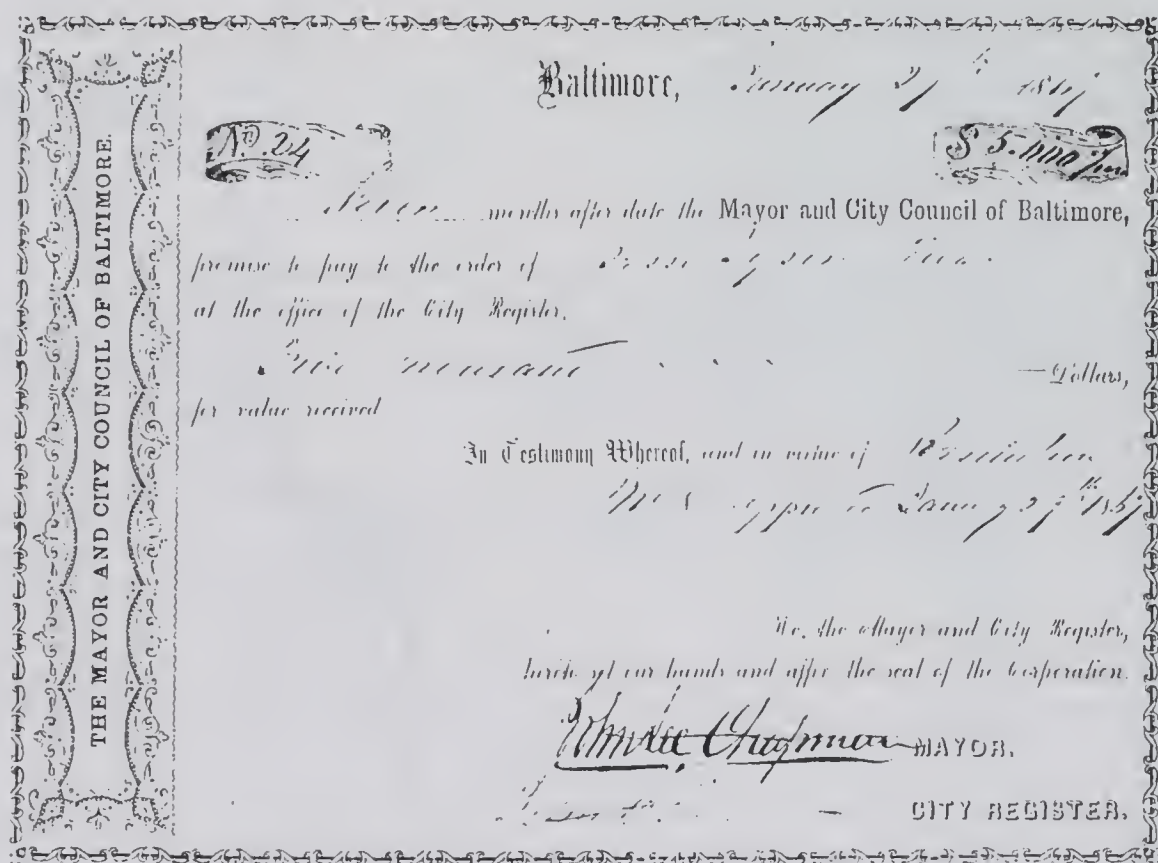

1855-6 Jesse Tyson & Co., chemical manufactory, NE corner of Block and Point. Office: 49 Exchange Building. H: se cor Franklin and Charles 1860 Jesse Tyson & Co., chemical mfg., over 71 Second. H: 33 Franklin St.

As a point of information, Block Street was on W. Falls Avenue, Thames Street area, near City Block.

Jesse Tyson was active in business in Baltimore. In addition to being an incorporator of the Baltimore and Havana Steamship Company he was a director of Farmers and Merchants National Bank, Central Savings Bank of Baltimore, Baltimore Equitable Society and The Peabody Fire Insurance Company. He was treasurer of Henry Watson Aid Society and of Cushings and Bailey.

In 1863, Jesse, purchased over 175 acres of land on the Falls Turnpike in Baltimore County to build a home for his mother. Delays caused by the Civil War and after the war, kept his mother from ever occupying Cylburn, the name for his home. The architect for the home was George Frederick, architect for the Baltimore City Hall. Cylburn was eventually completed in 1888.

Baltimore City indebtedness to Jesse Tyson as the Treasurer of Cushings and Bailey, , Booksellers and Stationers, 262 W. Baltimore Street, between Hanover and Sharp.

Like many other businesses, Jesse Tyson and his company participated in exhibits of products at the Maryland Institute. Because of the depth between the image on the medal and the rim, it is very difficult to adequately represent a picture of the image.

FRANKLIN MINT ISSUES WITH MARYLAND THEMES

1964 – 1980

by

Greg D. Ruby - MD TAMS LM-6

Over the years, I have been curious as to the number of Franklin Mint issues there were with themes related to Maryland. In September, 2003, I was fortunate to visit the Library of the American Numismatic Association and was able to do some research on this topic.

The bulk of the information in the following spreadsheet came from Chester L. Krause's Guidebook of Franklin Mint Issues – 1980 edition. You may recall that 2 years earlier CBS' 60 Minutes newsmagazine visited the 1978 ANA show in Houston and did an expose on Franklin Mint's marketing of their "limited edition" collectible series and lack of secondary markets. This episode pretty much quashed any demand for Franklin Mint products. Krause's 1980 catalog was the last in a series that dated back to 1974.

Joseph Segal founded the Franklin Mint in 1964. At first, the Franklin Mint was mainly focused on striking medallic art and coins for many foreign countries. In 1969, the Franklin Mint scored a marketing coup by hiring the former U.S. Mint Chief Engraver Gilroy Roberts to its staff. Over the course of time, the Franklin Mint branched out to include records, books, sculpture, lithographs and other collectibles.

After the 1978 60 Minutes story, the Franklin Mint saw its market for medallic art literally dry up overnight. By the mid – 1980's, it was no longer striking any medals or ingots, and was doing very little in way of striking coins for foreign governments. A few years ago, they sold off all of their minting equipment and no longer can strike any numismatic items.

In 1981, Segal sold controlling interest in the Franklin Mint to Warner Communications. It is interesting to note that Segal later went on to found the QVC Shopping Network on cable television. Warner sold the Franklin Mint, in 1985, to Stuart and Lynda Resnick for $167.5 million.

In November of 2003, Franklin Mint announced that it was laying off two-thirds of its employees (over 200+ people) and would refocus its market attention. It now primarily will be creating precision die-craft miniature models and Harley-Davidson memorabilia.

The following spreadsheet lists items that were manufactured by the Franklin Mint with a Maryland – related theme from 1964 – 1980. This listing is by no means inclusive and there may be additional items that should be listed. For purposes of completeness, I have included non-numismatic items in this listing.

The 1964 National Commemorative Society issue with Francis Scott Key is included, but was not manufactured by the Franklin Mint (who took over this series in 1965).
